Curriculum Vitae ijm SYM

Editing

A process of revising the content, organisation, grammar, and presentation of a piece of writing.

Proofreading

Checking for accuracy in a piece of writing that is nearly complete.

Includes checking smaller details of grammar, spelling, and punctuation.

Professional editing and proofreading skills in English

I am a native English proofreader which is essential for checking sentence flow and word use. Having written many reports and sales and business proposals I know the importance of correct words and phrasing. I use a light copy editing hand to just edit misused words, awkward sentences, or unclear meanings to allow your voice to shine through your work. You'll end up with something you can be proud of without being edited out of it!

I proofread and edit 1000 words in less than two hours. As a mild-mannered ex-business newspaper editor and native English proofreader, I polish your document fast so it shines for you.

Proofreading

I can quickly and accurately proofread:

Applications, Articles, Blog posts, Books, ICOs,

ITTs, personal statements, RFPs, sales letters, theses, websites, white papers, video and audio scripts.

EDITING SERVICES

- Word misuse
- Incorrect spellings
- Punctuation
- Awkward sentences
- Inconsistent tenses
- Use of English
- Clarity

Curriculum Vitae tafadzwa fortune NDIYAMBA

Providing 360° Media and Branding Solutions throughout Africa

Tafadzwa Fortune Ndiyamba is a qualified television and radio producer with 18 years experience in television and news production. He is the Director & Executive Producer of Tafony World, a production house that I founded in 2012 to produce television shows, documentaries, corporate videos and news inserts.

He has amassed a lot of experience in the media space having worked as a Television News Reporter, Television News Producer, Live Events Producer/Director for Zimbabwe Broadcasting Corporation, International news

Cameraman (Associated Press), radio news & programs producer (Highway Radio) and now Executive Producer and Owner of Tafony World.

In 2011 he founded EcoForum Africa to capacitate the media on Climate Change, Environmental and Sustainability reporting. EcoForum provides a platform for journalists, media houses and media stakeholders to be empowered, capacitated and mobilized around reporting/covering Climate Change, Environmental and Sustainable Livelihoods issues objectively and accurately.

As the Managing Director of EcoForum he was responsible for the day to day running of the organisation and also helping the media effectively highlight the effects of Global Warming, & Climate Change. He also designed and implemented a number of 3-day intensive environmental workshops for the KwaZulu Natal media which was endorsed by SADC Regional Environmental Education Program. He has two diplomas; one in Mass Communication: Broadcasting Journalism and the other in Marketing. He also did a course on Environmental Education, Training and Development Practice.

He has a full rig of HD filming gear and is passionate about telling the African story like he is doing with his show, The First Ladies which is a profile and celebration of African women trendsetters and also Chilling with the Ambassador which is a platform for African Diplomatic envoys to creatively introduce their countries using their distinctive traditional cuisines.

Virtual Event Solutions

Multimedia

Virtual Events

Remote

Video Conferencing

Odds are you've attended a zoom meeting to webinar, but our Multimedia Virtual Eventing Solution takes Online Eventing / Conferencing to the next level! Utilising a zoom based platform, our software allows for live switching between cameras, remote direction, animation overlays, video playbacks, music, sponsor logos and lots more.

Hybrid

Live Stream

This is a hybrid between a live multicam production in one central physical location integrated with other delegates integrated remotely where speakers will be able to see and hear the remote attendees and interact in real-time, whilst the event is simultaneously being Live Streamed to all social media platforms or private link.

We-Link

Live Stream

With our custom developed virtual expo solution, you are now able to host LIVE exhibitions where delegates can login to the expo, navigate their way around the virtual environment and click on each stand as they wish and they are transported to a Live Stream of the exhibitor pitching their product or service with full live interactivity.

Why most Companies are switching to Virtual Eventing

Odds are you've attended a zoom meeting / event or a webinar online, but 3D Virtual Eventing takes Online Eventing and Conferencing to the next level!

Ever since the Global Pandemic took the world by storm, most large organisations and global conferences have switched to virtual eventing and such a switch is imperative, not only to prevent massive financial loss, but to transform, adapt and stay ahead of their competitors during these uncertain times.

While we may not be able to have Live Events for a long unknown period, it's imperative to ensure that your vital content is still transferred to your audience and that the company continues generating revenue in order to keep afloat.

But while it may be impossible to meet in person during these times, there's no reason to cancel your event completely when there are World-Class 3D Virtual Eventing Solutions at your disposal. Virtual events are quickly becoming the norm- at least for now; in order to deliver your company's message to drive leads and revenue, drive adoption and build loyalty and lifetime value.

Make no mistake of thinking of virtual events as a secondary solution, but as value-added, engagement-driven, augmented reality experiences, accessible globally that will create an impactful event that extends well-beyond a computer screen. Meeting and event planners have been making the choice between in-person, virtual, and hybrid events for years and COVID-19 may just be the push we've all needed to take the next step and transform the global eventing space.
